Forest Service decision appealed

Anglers of the AuSable, Sierra Club file simultaneous appeals of FONSI

by Josh Greenberg
Staff Writer

As expected, the Anglers of the AuSable and the Sierra Club filed appeals of the Forest Service's Decision Notice and Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) recently, demanding that Savoy Energy's request to drill be denied and remanded back to the Forest Service.

The 25 page FONSI, issued in early February, gave Savoy one of the two permits the energy company needs to begin operations. The other permit comes from the Bureau of Land Management.

The Anglers appeal consists of 19 arguments in total.

In the FONSI, Leanne Marten, Forest Supervisor of the Huron-Manistee National Forest, states that a well and production facility, known as State South Branch 1-19, already exists near the Mason Tract.

"There has been a gas production facility (State South Branch 1-19), which is similar to the proposed facility, in production within the area for 13 years. This facility is actually approximately 1.4 miles closer to the South Branch of the AuSable and 1.25 miles closer to the Mason Tract area," Marten wrote in the FONSI.

The Anglers contend this statement is misleading on several accounts. While the production facility of the proposed well (known as State South Branch 1-8) would be further from the river, the actual wellhead would be closer to the river. In a public statement, Supervisor Marten said it would be too dangerous to locate the wellhead of the proposed well at the production facility.

Rusty Gates, President of Anglers, disagrees with Marten. According to the Anglers appeal, if the wellhead was moved all the way back to the proposed production facility, the bottom hole would still be some 800 feet closer to the surface hole at the proposed well than at 1-19. In other words, how can 1-19 be safe and still have a longer drill length than would be at the proposed well?

"Saying the wellhead can't be moved back to a distance less than is present at 1-19...that's saying that technology has regressed in the last fifteen years," he said.

As it is now, the proposed well 1-8 would be located a scant .6 miles from the river, and .3 miles

Major work for dam removal project done

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Removal of the Millpond Dam and the restoration of the AuSable River into a more natural area in the city park has drawn rave reviews.

Construction crews for Pete's Contracting of Falmouth wrapped up their work installing a weir to control the height of the Millpond, removing the dam and building a natural fish passage last week. Crews will return in the spring to restore the banks along the river and areas where equipment was located for the project.

The $385,000 project was a joint effort which involved officials from the City of Grayling, the Michigan Department of Transportation and the Department of Natural Resources. A $75,000 grant from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Sport Fish Restoration Act Fund was secured to fund the project, with remaining money coming for the DNR's Fish and Game Fund.

Steve Sendek, a fisheries biologist with the DNR, said there were no problems with raising or lowering the height of the river, the release of major amounts of sediment downstream and construction has stayed on schedule for the project.

"It could not have happened any better," Sendek said.

Constructed of log timber during the late 1800s, the Millpond Dam was originally used to store logs which supplied the local lumber mills. The old U.S. 27 bridge crossing on the I-75 Business Loop was built over the dam and renovated with sheet steel piling in the mid-1930s as Grayling's main north-south thoroughfare.

Fee proposed to stop Canadian trash

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

State lawmakers have proposed slapping a $7.50 per ton fee to dump trash into state landfills in order to stem the flow of trash coming into the state from Canada and other states.

The Department of Environmental Quality reported that Michigan buried 20.8 million tons of trash in 2003. A quarter of that amount came from outside the state, with 5 million tons coming from other states, and 3.1 million tons coming from Canada. The state took in 6 million tons of trash from other states and Canada in 2004, an increase of more than 870,000 tons.

With more than 20 million tons of solid waste entering Michigan landfills in 2004, the $7.50 per tons fee is expected to generate an estimated $130 million and $150 million a year.

State House Democrats recently announced the plan to place the $7.50 per ton fee to dispose of waste in landfills. The proposal is modeled after a $7.25 per ton fee charged in Pennsylvania, where out of state trash was reduced by 1.5 million tons over a two-year period.

"Because Michigan has been so cheap, we've become a magnet for trash," said Kathleen Law (D-Gibraltar). "We need to change the economic dynamics to level the playing field to stop the trash."

The plan also calls for revoking certificates to operate landfills for a year if out of state jurisdictions send banned and dangerous items to Michigan landfills, strengthening enforcement and banning landfill expansions until 2010.

"This is a problem that affects all of us," said Dianne Byrum (D-Onondaga). "Michigan is the Great Lakes State. It should not be the Great Waste State."

The location of the Waters landfill in Crawford County rather than the proposed fee factors more into the potential of Canadian waste being dumped in the landfill.

A total of 47,884 cubic yards of trash out of 850,000 cubic yards of trash placed in the landfill in 2004 came from Canada.

Tom Horton, governmental affairs manager for Waste Management, said there are no landfills in northern Michigan that are currently taking Canadian trash and there are no waste haulers planning to take trash to the Waters landfill.

from the Mason Tract, much closer than the existing well at 1-19, located 1.2 miles from the stream.

The Forest Service FONSI also states that there were "no value adjustments...made for sales of private vacant land near or next to oil and gas facilities, or wells...in their respective counties."

South Branch Township Assessor Christie Verlac said this statement was untrue.

"I have many parcels within South Branch township that have a negative adjustment, usually a 20% reduction, because they are contiguous or are in close proximity to a parcel that has a well," Verlac said.

The appeal included two letters from nearby property owners, both voicing their complaints about the pre-existing facility.

Noise has been repeatedly cited as a concern by both the Forest Service and the Anglers. The initial, noise-producing drilling phase would take three months.

Gates said three months is too much.

"This could cause an irretrievable recreational loss. At 115 decibels, it's like us applying to hold a rock concert seven days a week, 24 hours a day in the middle of the forest," he said.

The Anglers added that the Forest Service Decision did not take into account the effects wind would have on sound. They cited an example of TransCanada Pipelines Ltd., which lost hundreds of thousands of dollars daily due to noise complaints.

It is also anticipated that if gas is found, three more wells would be added. This would make the proposed facility 1-8 larger than the pre-existing facility 1-19. Gates said the "cumulative effect" could be devastating.

Also cited as reasons for the FONSI to be remanded included claims that the Forest Service failed to adequately respond to public comment, failed to substantiate their decisions with supported claims, and failed to examine reasonable alternatives to Savoy's proposed well locations. All three are required by the National Environmental Protection Agency.

Gates said that the Anglers and the Sierra Club had little trouble finding problems in the Forest Service decision, and this was cause for concern.

"With very limited research we could prove that they based their research on inadequate data," Gates said.

The appeals of the Anglers and the Sierra Club were sent to the Eastern Division of the Forest Service in Milwaukee, Wisconsin for review.

A map shows the pre-existing well 1-19, and proposed well and production facility 1-8. The Anglers contend that 1-8 is significantly closer to the river than at 1-19.

This photo accompanied the Anglers of the AuSable appeal of the Forest Service decision to approve Savoy Energy to drill. Under the photo was this message, addressed to the Forest Service: "This path leads to the River where we regenerate our souls. Where do you see a well in this picture?"

Fee proposed to stop Canadian trash

The geographic location of that landfill makes it fairly unlikely, but it's always possible," Horton said.

Horton noted that 75 percent of trash disposed of in Michigan landfills comes from within the state. He said the fee would ultimately be passed on to customers if it was implemented.

"There is no guarantee that this would slow the flow of out of state trash," Horton said. "I think that communities that are already struggling financially are wary that some of this money generated would actually return for recycling programs."

Horton noted that hazardous waste generated in Michigan is sent to Ontario, and 70 percent of the medical waste generated in the state is sent to Ohio.

"At the end of day, this really is an issue of free trade and if you will accept all products -- not just the ones you want," Horton said.

Bruce Patrick, the environmental monitor for Crawford, said he believes the increased fee would spur more people to recycle.

"I would like to see more recycling, but this would be very costly and expensive," Patrick said of the proposed fee.

Critics who have panned the proposal said it would be bad for business and Michigan residents.

"The rhetoric on this issue simply doesn't match the facts, which show the vast majority of waste deposited in Michigan landfills actually comes from within Michigan," said Michigan Chamber of Commerce official Doug Roberts, Jr. "Any new service charges and fees will ultimately be borne primarily by the businesses and people of Michigan and added to our overall statewide tax burden."

Major work for dam removal project done

The dam's steel pilings had deteriorated to the point of near failure, and hundreds of thousands of cubic yards of sediment are located behind the dam. The ownership has been disputed by the City of Grayling and MDOT officials for years.

The removal of the dam addressed liability issues regarding the dam and the potential damage to downstream property. The new fish passage will allow fish to migrate beyond the Millpond, will lower the water temperatures of the river, help beautify the city park and allow the city to maintain the Millpond.

"It's something that the community can now be proud of," Sendek said.

The millpond will be lowered three inches per year over the next four years. Sendek said the first step to lower the pond will take place this fall.

Rusty Gates, the president of Angler of AuSable and owner of Gates AuSable Lodge, was pleased to see a project that will have positive long term effects for the river finally come to fruition.

"It's going to make that stretch of river from the city park to Burton's Landing a better fishery all year long," Gates said.

Silo contents catch fire at Grayling plant

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Firefighters doused a fire with thousands of gallons of water over a three-day period to put out a blaze at a local manufacturing plant.

The Grayling City/Township Fire Department was called to the Springs Wood Products Plant located in the Grayling Industrial Park around 10:20 p.m. Thursday for a fire which broke out in a storage silo.

Travis Roberts, the fire marshal for the Grayling Fire Department, said a spark from a auger in the silo ignited sawdust and waste wood stored in the structure.

Firefighters from the Beaver Creek and Frederic Township Fire Departments also assisted at the scene. Firefighters remained at the plant until 3:15 a.m. Saturday. Over 400,000 gallons of water was used to put out the fire.

We kept the fire confined right to the silo," Roberts said. "The crews did a heck of a job."

A-1 Services, an environmental response firm based in Kalkaska, was called to the plant to remove wood from the silo.

Springs Wood Products, which manufactures wood blinds for windows, stayed fully operational while the fire was being handled.

Molly Laster, spokesperson for Spring Industries based in Fort Mill South Carolina, said employees followed established safety protocol when the blaze broke out.

"That was followed to a T, and we are thankful there were no injuries," Laster said.

The sawdust and waste wood stored in the silo is used to provide heat and to fire the kiln used to dry wood at the plant.

"We want to be good environmental stewards for the prod-

New director takes reins of bus system

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

A new executive director is at the steering wheel for the Crawford County Transportation Authority.

Julee Dean started as director of the bussing service on March 7. She will take the place of Dave Frederick, who is retiring after 21 years as director of the Transportation Authority.

Dean, who has previous management experience, completed the social science program at Central Michigan University in December.

"I've never worked in the public sector, so I'm looking forward to it because it's a little different," Dean said.

Dean was one of two finalists for the position.

"She has a great personality and she's a real go-getter," said Lee Riley, chairman of the Crawford County Transportation Authority Board. "Dave has done a tremendous job and we're going to miss him, and hopefully Julee can come in and keep things going on track."

Frederick is going to work with Dean over the next three to four months, then will be available near the end of the year for annual reports and audits.

Dean said she is going to get a commercial drivers license so she will be able to drive the busses as she takes over the operation.

"I going to take it step by step and I want to learn everyone's role so we can benefit every community in Crawford County," Dean said.

Dean grew up in Plymouth and used to come to Grayling to visit her late grandparents, Earl and Wilda Wood.

Dean and her daughter, Kelsee, who is a fifth grader at Grayling Elementary School, moved from Texas to Grayling to be close to

Former Presidents Bush, Clinton show the way

A STRANGE AURA seems to develop over folks who at one time occupied the White House — at least in some recent instances.

Once they leave office, a halo of genuine public service and cooperation seems to lower toward the brows of former presidents.

Look at former President George H.W. Bush and former President Bill Clinton.

Current President George Bush invited his two most recent predecessors to head efforts to encourage more private donations for relief of victims and reconstruction in countries devastated by the December tsunami.

So former Presidents Clinton and Bush traveled to Indonesia, Thailand and other areas ripped by that awful tsunami to call attention for the continuing need for help in reconstruction.

They also performed both as good will ambassadors — which itself seems to be a near-forgotten role in world affairs — and to indicate American compassion for the people of the region.

According to all reports, the roaming ambassadors did themselves proud, created bushels of good will for the nation, and were a credit to themselves and to America... We all owe them our thanks for a job well underway.

A possibly hopeful signal for domestic political progress is that they seemed to get along with each other very well indeed. The only rift reported by the ever-vigilant media came over who would take the more comfortable bed on the airplane.

Mr. Clinton insisted that Mr. Bush use the bed because of his superior age, while Mr. Bush wanted Mr. Clinton to have the more comfortable quarters due to his recent heart surgery.

According to the report I read, Mr. Clinton won again — as he did in the 1984 presidential election — and Mr. Bush got the bed while Mr. Clinton slept on the floor.

CHAPTER TWO in the Bush-Clinton good will alliance came shortly after their return from tsunami land. To raise funds for tsunami relief, the two presidents agreed to play in a celebrity golf tournament in Hobe Sound, Fla., staged by golfing legend Greg Norman, a friend of both former presidents.

Price tag for this event was $30,000 an entry. Turnout was chilled by a cold (for Florida) and rainy day, but both presidents stuck it out and played 15 holes, adding a couple million more to help the unfortunate people in the far east.

Weather was so bad on Game Day that the opening round of the PGA Honda Classic scheduled the same day about 40 miles away was canceled. Pro golfers did not play that day, but our two stalwart former presidents did. Good for them.

The next day, Mr. Clinton was back up north undergoing another operation to relieve pressure on his lung growing out of the earlier heart bypass operation. Mr.

Bush went to a spring training game to see his hometown Houston Astros lose to the St. Louis Cardinals.

* * *

GENUINE PUBLIC service by past presidents is not a recent phenomenon. Former President Jimmy Carter has set a high standard for good deeds since he finished his only term in the White House.

Mr. Carter has built houses, monitored elections across the globe, helped to broker international accords, worked in soup kitchens, and generally been a superior former president.

Mr. Carter seems to have substituted these sorts of self-effacing personal and public welfare activities for politics, although he was not a commanding political figure, even as president.

Mr. Clinton and the elder Mr. Bush, on the other hand, both are still more directly concerned and only on the near side-lines of American political activity.

But these two ex presidents — one with his son in the vortex of national politics as president, and the other with his wife as a senator and leader of a considerable segment within her party — seem to get along well anyway. In their tsunami efforts, they have put aside any personal or party differences to work for the national good, side by side.

They almost make you believe if we could only submit our most pressing and divisive political problems to them — controversies such as social security, war and peace in the Middle East, budgets, judges, and other things which divide congress and defy solution — maybe the two of them, working together, could find equitable and acceptable solutions.

Why must our national leaders be out of office before they set aside differences and cooperate in the interests of the public good?

People with diabetes can reduce their risk of heart disease and stroke

If you have diabetes, a trip to the doctor's office should be more than a check on your blood glucose levels. Over two-thirds of the people with diabetes don't realize that they are at increased risk for heart disease and stroke. But in reality, heart disease strikes people with diabetes twice as often as people without diabetes.

Take charge of your health and work toward comprehensive diabetes care that includes managing blood glucose and other cardiovascular risk factors.

By checking with your doctor about the ABCs of Diabetes, you can help reduce your risk. A is for the A1C test, which measures the average blood glucose over the past 2 to 3 months; B is for blood pressure; and C is for cholesterol.

Talk to your doctor or other member of your healthcare team about the link between diabetes and heart disease. Use these questions as a guide for your next visit to your doctor:

What are my ABC numbers and what are my ABC goals? How often should my ABCs be checked?

What steps can I take to reach each of my ABC goals?

Can taking medications such as aspirin, ACE inhibitors, or statins help me reduce my risk for a heart attack or stroke?

What are the symptoms of heart attack and stroke that I need to watch for?

Do I need special testing to detect heart disease?

What's the best way for me to quit smoking?

This information is provided by the American Diabetes Association and the American College of Cardiology, partners in an educational initiative called "Make the Link! Diabetes Heart, Diabetes and Stroke."

Watercraft renewals are easy online

With the start of the boating season just weeks away, residents can take advantage of the convenience and timesavings provided by online watercraft registration renewal.

Owners of boats, including personal watercraft, may renew online at www.michigan.gov/sos beginning March 1. Registration decals are mailed within ten days.

The web-based program allows residents to renew from their homes or offices anytime of the day or night. Watercraft registrations may also be renewed by touch-tone telephone, mail or at a branch office. Internet and touch-tone renewal options are available through August 31.

"It's easy to save time by renewing online," said Secretary of State Terri Lynn Land, who oversees the registration and titling of more than a million watercraft. "That way you can spend time on your boat, not in line. Watercraft renewal is just one of many convenient online customer services provided by the Department of State."

All watercraft on Michigan waters, including privately owned lakes and waterways, must be registered except:

Watercraft 18 feet or less, propelled by oars or paddles, and not used for rental or commercial purposes.

Non-motorized canoes and kayaks not used for rental or commercial purposes.

Rafts, surfboards, sailboards and swim floats, regardless of length.

Watercraft registered in another state and used only temporarily in Michigan.

The notices include instructions for renewing online, along with a personal identification number needed to use the system. Payment is by VISA, MasterCard or Discover credit cards. Nearly 3000,000 renewal notices will be mailed this year.

Residents will also find information about ordering a Great Lakes Protection Fund decal with their renewal notice. The colorful decal costs $35. It is decorative only and not required for watercraft registration or identification purposes. Proceeds from sales will help fund research and education to control invasive species, such as zebra mussels, in the Great Lakes and other Michigan waters. This special decal may also be purchased online at www.michigan.gov/michiganstore using a VISA or MasterCard credit card.

EDITOR

Ten ways to tell if you are a left wing liberal

To the editor:

Ten ways to tell if you are a left wing liberal:

1. Ignore the fact that the United States was attacked by terrorists on 9/11 with the loss of 3,000 of our countrymen.

2. Support the views of so-called university professors, such as Ward Churchill, who states that the victims of 9/11 were no better than Nazi's and deserved their fate.

3. Accuse our military who is fighting for our freedom and way of life of unfounded and contrived crimes and atrocities.

4. Watch and read main stream biased news and newspapers as your only source of information, and take what they are spewing as gospel. Don't bother to get other points of view as this may take some effort on your part.

5. Oppose all exploration and drilling for oil in the U.S. and object to the idea that this just might make us less dependent on middle east oil.

6. Support and vote for left-wing congressmen and senators regardless of the fact that they have no fresh ideas on how to solve our countries problems. It is enough that they hate President Bush.

7. Attempt to deprive law abiding citizens of their right to keep and bear arms. Ignore the fact that this right is guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States.

8. Oppose any change to the tax code or social security. Ignore the fact that during President Clinton's term, he and fellow Democrats stated continuously the need to fix social security. The tax code was just fine though, as long as the government took in excessive amounts of revenue for out-dated and wasteful spending on social problems.

9. Support abortion on demand at all costs, including the murder of helpless babies up to and including nine months by partial birth abortion. Heaven forbid that people should show restraint and personal responsibility.

10. Support the ACLU (Anti-Christian Liberal Union) in their attempt to remove all reference to God from schools and every where else. After all, religion "might offend" someone.

There are many more examples I could sight, but then the Avalanche might have an excuse to refuse to print this based on its length.

No doubt the left will have a response to my opinions, but this is called freedom of speech. Let the people of Grayling decide.

God bless our country, our military and our President.

Maple Syrup Day to be held at Hartwick Pines State Park

Plan to spend the day at Hartwick Pines State Park to enjoy learning about North America's oldest agricultural product, maple sugar. Hartwick Pines State Park Michigan Forest Visitor Center and the Logging Museum will be presenting Maple Syrup Day on Saturday, March 26, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Visitors will be able to: Walk into the sugarbush to help tap a maple tree, observe the boil-down process which converts maple sap to maple syrup.

Learn the history of maple sugar making in North America, view videos titled "Maple Sugar Farmer," "Maple Sugaring" and "The Maple Sugaring Story," ask questions about backyard and commercial sugaring of special guest, Russell Kidd, MSU District Extension Forestry Agent, taste maple sap and the finished maple syrup, and purchase genuine maple sugar candy and syrup.

Children can participate in tapping a maple tree and will learn how to build their own mokuk. A mokuk is a birch bark container in which native peoples transported maple sugar. Making a paper mokuk replica provides a history lesson and discussion about how European settlers learned of the Native Americans' sugaring culture.

Visitors will be able to taste maple syrup and sap, smell the aroma around an outside evaporator pan and welcome spring at this educational and fun event. Maple recipes will be available for those wishing to savor the sweetness of the day.

There is no fee for this event, but a Motor Vehicle Permit is required for park entry.

Legends of Rock and Roll to perform at Kirtland

The Kirtland Center for Performing Arts presents "Legends of Rock and Roll" a tribute to Buddy Holly; Roy Orbison and Elvis Presley at the campus of Kirtland Community College on Saturday, April 16, at 8 p.m.

"Legends of Rock and Roll" featuring John Mueller who played Buddy Holly in the first National Tour of the hit musical "Buddy"; Larry Branson who starred as Roy Orbison in London West End Production of "Only the Lonely" for over three years; and Scot Bruce who is the most sought after young Elvis touring today.

John Mueller - Buddy Holly - The Buddy Holly Story opened at the American Heartland Theatre in Kansas City in 1996. Fans were quick to realize that before Mueller played Buddy Holly, the rock and roll legend had never been so faithfully portrayed. Mueller's performance is perhaps best summed up by original Crickets' member Niki Sullivan. "John is a reincarnation of Buddy Holly. He is that good. He had the same determination in his eyes that Buddy did and when John is on stage, he is a totally dynamic performer, just like Buddy. John is awesome." Mueller has also been seen as an actor in Bad Boys starring Sean Penn, ABC's Lady Blue, and Crime Story.

Larry Branson - Roy Orbison - After Roy's death in 1988, Branson decided to expand his love of Roy's music by starring in a new musical in London "The Roy Orbison Story." In 1998 Branson completed a 40 date tour across Canada with "This Lonely Heart: The Roy Orbison Experience."

Scot Bruce - Elvis Presley - Bruce has been a big Elvis fan all his life. He started performing a 50's era Elvis show. Because of his uncanny resemblance to the young "King" and his ability to sing, strum a guitar, and swivel his hips, his live show has taken him all over the world. As Elvis, Bruce has appeared in music videos with Sheryl Crow, Faith Hill, and Tashin Archer, as well as on the FOX TV sitcom "Partners." Bruce has also been heard as the "Resident Elvis" on the highly rated Los Angeles morning radio show "Mark and Brian" on KLOS F.M.

A live back up band will play for the show the legends never gave, including songs like Peggy Sue, That'll Be the Day, Only the Lonely, Pretty Woman, Hound Dog, Heartbreak Hotel and many more.

For an evening of fabulous fifties fun check out the Legends of Rock and Roll in the concert, the legends never gave but we all wanted to see.

For ticket reservations call the Kirtland Ticket Office at 989-275-6777 or order your tickets on line at www.kirtland.edu/kcpa.

Ten Commandments

Why are court cases concerning the Ten Commandments increasing across America? Exodus 31:18 may best answer this question: "And he gave unto Moses, when he had made an end of communing with him upon mount Sinai, two tables of testimony, tables of stone, written with the finger of God." The accuracy, authority, and accessibility of God's Words are being opposed by secularists in America.

American civilization is under attack. As James Madison, the father of our U.S. Constitution, once said, "We have staked the whole future of American civilization, not upon the power of government, far from it. We have staked the future of all of our political institutions upon the capacity of mankind for self-government; upon the capacity of each and all of us to govern ourselves, to control ourselves, to sustain ourselves according to the Ten Commandments of God."

The Ten Commandments were incorporated into the Civil Laws of the first 13 Colonies. From this foundation the Ten Commandments remained as the moral roots from which American law and jurisprudence grew and developed.

In 1610 the Colony of Virginia wrote the first code of laws enacted in America declaring: "[S]ince we owe our highest and supreme duty, our greatest and all our allegiance to Him from whom all power and authority is derived, and flows as from the first and only fountain, and being especially soldiers impressed in this sacred cause, we must alone expect our success from Him who is only the blessing of all good attempts, the King of kings, the Commander of commanders, and Lord of hosts, I do strictly command and charge all Captains and Officers of what quality or nature soever, whether commanders in the field, or in town or towns, forts or fortresses, to have a care that the Almighty God be duly and daily served, and that they call upon their people to hear sermons, as that also they diligently frequent morning and evening prayer themselves by their own example and daily life and duties herein, encouraging others thereunto."

As the Supreme Court of Indiana declared in 1974: "Virtually all criminal laws are in one way or another the progeny of Judeo-Christian ethics. We have no intention to overrule the Ten Commandments." As Justice O'Connor when writing last year about the phrase, "under God" in the Pledge of Allegiance as not being in violation of the Establishment Clause, she said: "Certain ceremonial references to God and religion in our Nation are the inevitable consequence of the religious history that gave birth to our founding principles of liberty. It would be ironic indeed if this Court were to wield our constitutional commitment to religious freedom so as to sever our ties to the traditions developed to honor it."

It is no accident that Moses and the Ten Commandments are in the rotunda of the Library of Congress, on the rear facade of the U.S. Supreme Court, and inside the Supreme Court's courtroom. It is no accident that thousands of copies of these Ten Commandments have been chiseled in stone and located in prominent public places across America. Let us honor the words of the God who blessed us. Pastor "B"

Former Kirtland art student honored with exhibit, reception

Artist Justin LaDoux is scheduled to graduate from the Kendall College of Art and Design in May and the art department at Kirtland Community College (KCC), where he got his start, would like to celebrate that fact. An exhibit of LaDoux's work is on display now at the Kirtland House on the KCC campus and will remain up until Wednesday, March 30, when a public reception will be hosted in his honor.

Art lovers are encouraged to view the exhibit. The Kirtland House is open Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Everyone has the opportunity to meet the artist and see his work during the March 30 reception which will last from 4 to 6 p.m.

LaDoux is the son of Gene and Arlene LaDoux of West Branch and is a 2000 graduate of Ogemaw Heights High School. He got a jump start on his art career through Kirtland's dual-enrollment program which allowed him to take college classes while still in high school.

He also studied in the COOR Intermediate School District's Visual Imaging Career Technological Program offered through Kirtland, graduating with honors as Visual Imaging Student of the Year. As such he received a certificate of commendation from then-Gov. John Engler.

While studying at Kirtland, in both 2001 and 2002, LaDoux had work accepted into the Bosque Conservatory Art Council's annual competition in Clifton, Texas. He's also exhibited in Alpena's Jesse Besser Museum's Northeast Art Exhibition, the AuSable Valley Fine Art Show, and as part of Realism 2001 at the Stage Gallery in New York.

In 2002, he earned a certificate in graphic design from Kirtland. Scott Rice, Kirtland art instructor, said LaDoux was one of his top students and a top lab aide as well.

LaDoux received a scholarship to attend the prestigious Kendall College and now, after three years of study, will graduate with a bachelor of fine arts degree in illustration. He plans to further his studies at Central Michigan University in the fall.

"We'd like to show our respect for his successes," Rice said about the exhibit and planned reception. For more information, contact Kirtland's Art Department at 989-275-5000, Ext. 300.

Planning under way for 2005 Kirtland's Warbler Festival

As the endangered Kirtland's warbler is enjoying a sultry winter in the Bahamas, members of the Kirtland's Warbler Festival committee are finalizing plans to celebrate the birds' spring return to its nesting grounds in Northern Michigan.

The 2005 Kirtland's Warbler Festival is set to take place Saturday, May 21, according to officials of Kirtland Community College, which sponsors the event.

The festival has evolved into a national event, drawing birders and nature lovers from across America, Canada and the Bahamas and this year's event will be no different.

The 12th annual festival will include a full day of nature events, presentations and entertainers celebrating and teaching an appreciation for wildlife, all on the Kirtland Community College campus. Photographers, crafters and other artists will have their work on hand and there are plenty of activities for kids to dive into, such as building bird houses, fishing in a well-stocked pond, exotic animal displays and visits from Smokey Bear and Woodsy Owl.

But the highlight of the event is always the guided tours to the jack pine forests that surround the college for the chance to see the Kirtland's warbler, a bird that was nearly extinct a generation ago.

Last year, the college began renting school buses for the tours - each of them led by a wildlife biologist from one of the several agencies charged with ensuring the bird's survival. The tours allow hundreds of nature lovers the chance to see, or at least hear, the famous birds.

This year's tours are set to take place at 7 a.m. and 8 a.m., on both the Saturday morning of the festival and Sunday morning, May 22.

Plan to make the Kirtland's Warbler Festival an all-day outing by enjoying the pancake breakfast - a highlight of early Saturday tours - then digging into a barbecued-chicken lunch. Both are served at the festival site and allow nature lovers the chance to take in at their leisure all the presentations and activities offered that day.

As in past years, the festival is also offering a special pre-festival workshop on Friday, May 20, from 9 a.m.-2:30 p.m. This year's workshop will be led by Dr. Eldon Greij, founder and former editor of "Birder's World" magazine and former professor of biology at Hope College. Participants will come away from his hands-on workshop with a much-improved ability to find and identify birds.

Admission to all presentations and tours on May 21 is $5, for the purchase of a KWF button. All other activities are free. There is a cost for the Friday birding workshop.

For more information about the 2005 Kirtland's Warbler Festival, phone (989) 275-5000, Ext. 266, or visit the KWF Web site at: <http://warbler.kirtland.edu/>

New Oncologist at OHM Infusion Therapy Clinic

GAYLORD — Otsego Memorial Hospital (OMH), the OMH Medical Group and Alpena Cancer Center welcome a new specialist to the OMH Oncology/Infusion Clinic in Gaylord.

"I am excited to be able to expand the availability of Hematology and Oncology services," said Sandra Mantz M.D. "These areas need full time coverage and as my practice expands I hope to be able to provide inpatient consultations as well."

"The Gaylord area is expanding rapidly and there is great opportunity to be a part of the community with the services I provide," said Dr. Mantz. "I am making it my goal to provide the most compassionate, complete care possible to my patients."

Oncologists are physicians who specialize in the medical study and treatment of cancer. "Oncology deals with life threatening diagnosis," said Dr. Mantz.

"It's a very emotional field."

Dr. Mantz, along with Robert Donnell, MD, of the Alpena Cancer Center, and Ervin Hire, MD, of Northern Michigan Hematology/Oncology, in Petoskey, work cooperatively at the OMH Infusion Clinic to provide hematology and oncology services from benign blood abnormalities such as anemia to advanced cancer care.

"During my training I gravitated toward oncology because of the patients," said Dr. Mantz. "My patients are so grateful for the kindness and treatment they receive. Being able to provide them with the best life possible is very gratifying."

Dr. Mantz is a graduate of the University of New Mexico School of Medicine and completed her residency and hematology/oncology fellowship at Michigan State University Associated Hospitals. She is board certified in internal medi-

Decontamination Tent helps protect against disasters

It's hard to predict when and where a natural disaster or act of terrorism will occur.

But residents in the communities across northern Michigan are better protected against such incidents after 12 hospitals in the region recently received new Zumro Decontamination Tents. The tents will be used to decontaminate victims exposed to several types of hazardous materials.

"We had no facility for decontamination until we received our tent," said Pattie Walker, Director of Emergency Services at Mercy Hospital Grayling. "Now we have a mobile decontamination facility that allows us to protect the local community, and also to provide mutual aid for other hospitals and responders. We are grateful for the grant funds. We are especially grateful to Lt. Jim Tuller, HazMat Director, Traverse City Fire Department, for his excellent assistance in developing our hospital decontamination plan, and to Ed Holtcamp and Beaver Creek Fire Department for collaborative training exercises that occurred in April and September 2004. Beaver Creek Fire Department is our county HazMat Team and we appreciate our good working relationship for patient care."

Each decontamination tent is conveniently stored in a large duffel bag, but can be deployed in less than two minutes. Walker and other members of the hospital's Decontamination Team underwent specialized training on how to operate the tent. A series of practice sessions, which began in February, will continue through the spring. In addition to the tent, Mercy Hospital Grayling has also received personal protective suits for EMS and a rolling stretcher for patients on backboards through Department of Justice grants received through Crawford County Emergency Management.

In addition to Mercy Hospital Grayling, the Region 7 Healthcare Disaster Preparedness Project provided decontamination tents to other Munson Healthcare facilities, including Mercy Hospital Cadillac, Kalkaska Memorial Health Center, Munson Medical Center, Paul Oliver Memorial Hospital, and West Shore Medical Center. The project also gave tents to hospitals in Alpena, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Petoskey, Gaylord, and Rogers City.

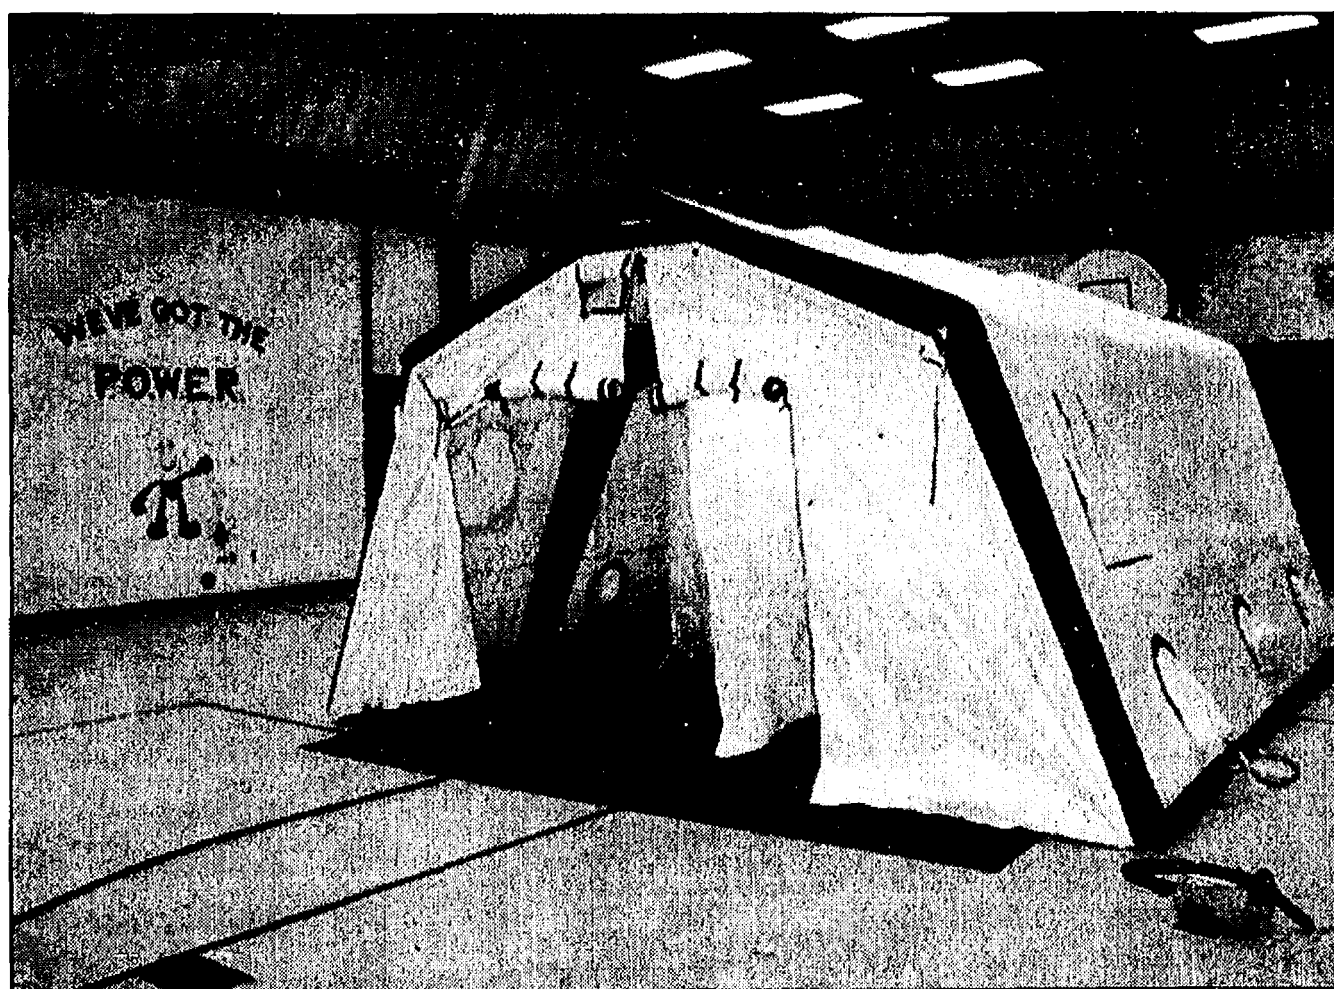

The project's primary goal is to work with hospitals and EMS to better prepare the region for mass casualty incidents, whether resulting from an act of terrorism or natural disaster. The project funds the purchase of supplies, provides training, and institutes systems and protocol to more effectively manage disasters. Though it is primarily focused on health care, the project also works closely with Emergency

The Zumro Decontamination Tent is stored in a large duffel bag.

Management, local Public Health, and other emergency response agencies.

Region 7 encompasses the counties of Alpena, Antrim, Benzie, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Crawford, Emmett, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Manistee, Missaukee, Montmorency, Oscoda, Otsego, Presque Isle, Roscommon, and Wexford.

The tent can be fully deployed in less than two minutes.

GRAND TRAVERSE FOOT NOTES

by Ronald K. Olm, D.P.M.

COMMON FOOT INJURIES IN ATHLETIC KIDS

Millions of kids are involved in several sports, which is a good thing overall. But because many sports are hard on the feet basketball, soccer, track and football-and a child's bones, ligaments, and tendons aren't fully developed, stress-related foot injuries are common. Heel growth plate inflammation, a risk until age 13-16, can occur due to muscle strain and repetitive stress. Achilles tendonitis occurs most often after age 14 and results from stressful running and pounding. Tendo-Achilles bursitis is an inflammation of the fluid-filled sac between the Achilles tendon and heel bone. Plantar fasciitis is heel pain triggered by inflammation along the tissue spanning the sole of the foot. Stress fractures are hairline bone fractures caused by overuse. Young or old, athletically inclined or not, no one can afford to play games with foot injuries, fractures, diseases, or disorders. Podiatric problems demand the attention of a professional. Don't let foot concerns keep you on the sidelines. Consult with us instead at GRAND TRAVERSE FOOT & ANKLE CENTER, P.C. We offer treatment of specific problems as well as preventive care to keep you on your feet. Our state of the art office is located at 1209 E. 8th Street, Traverse City. Please call 922-9100 & 800-968-7440 for an appointment. Offices in Traverse City, also Kalkaska Memorial Health Center Monday & Wednesday afternoons and evenings.

P.S. Do not allow your child to continue playing a sport if he or she is in pain. Find out the cause of it to prevent chronic problems.

Grant funds denied for hatchery project

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

The Grayling Fish Hatchery Steering Committee for the second time was unsuccessful in netting funds to help restore the historic landmark.

Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) officials informed the fish hatchery committee that funds earmarked for public infrastructure projects would not be awarded to help give the hatchery building a face lift.

The fish hatchery committee was seeking about $400,000 to replace the roof, replace the exterior siding and establish a small natural history museum in the fish hatchery building. The committee halved the request of the grant in hopes of getting funds to start the project because a $1.1 million grant application to do the entire project was rejected by the MEDC last year.

The grant application was submitted by the City of Grayling since MEDC funds earmarked for public infrastructure projects were only being made available to cities under the grant guidelines.

Paul Krepps, a MEDC spokesperson, said the application did not receive a high score when it was reviewed.

"This was a competitive program and the city's application unfortunately did not score high enough in relation to other applicants to receive funding," Krepps said.

Bruce Patrick, the environmental monitor for Crawford County and a fish hatchery steering committee member, said there were 70 applicants vying for the funding.

"We going to keep looking - that's about all we can do," Patrick said. "Obviously we are discouraged, but there was a lot of competition for the available funding."

The hatchery committee has raised over $120,000 in pledged funds for a local grant match from government municipalities, service clubs, businesses and individual donors.

Patrick said Carlisle Paddle has donated a 14-foot Old Town Canoe which will be raffled off on July 30 during the AuSable River Marathon Cane Race weekend to generate additional funds.

The Fish Hatchery Committee completed a project to restore the fish hatchery grounds through a $464,000 Department of Natural Resources grant earlier this year.

In 1914, Grayling lumber baron Rasmus Hanson and friends purchased land on the AuSable River, collected donations from friends and local fishermen and established the private hatchery where they hoped to raise grayling from eggs and release them into the wild.

Hanson and his friends failed to save the native fish, whose habitat was destroyed by floating logs down the river to local lumber mills, but their work with brook and brown trout succeeded.

Grayling residents banded together in the early 1980s and received permission from the state to open the hatchery after it had been closed for several years.

Thousands of school groups, tourists and residents visit the hatchery every summer.

South Branch Township developing Master Plan

South Branch Township, with the assistance of the Northeast Michigan Council of Governments (NEMCOG), is developing their first township Master Plan. The purpose of the Master Plan is to provide guidelines for future development while protecting the natural resources, preserving the community character and maintaining the sense of community in South Branch.

South Branch Township Supervisor Tom Kozlowski said that working in conjunction with NEMCOG to develop the Master Plan is the best possible move for South Branch.

"There's a chance that if we did it on our own we might make more mistakes. They assist our planning individuals - it's a joint venture," Kozlowski said.

NEMCOG is a non-profit organization that is hired by area townships to provide assistance. Recently, they assisted Maple Forest Township who, like South Branch, had to develop their own zoning ordinance.

"The county wants out of the zoning business," said Richard Deuell of NEMCOG.

According to Deuell, NEMCOG conducts a variety of background studies, including socio-economic standing, existing community services, natural resources and existing land uses.

"We use census information for some of these studies," Deuell said.

After the background information has been analyzed to identify important characteristics, changes and trends, the township holds a community workshop to gather input for establishing long and short term community goals.

Deuell said NEMCOG will facilitate the workshop, which will be occurring in the first part of June. He said the workshop is a visioning session in which three different lists are made.

The first list is of the assets of the community that need protection. The second is of problems that need to be addressed.

"The third list has you imagine that in the year 2025, somebody wants to come visit your town. What do you want them to see?" Deuell said.

Input from township residents will be extremely important, according to both Deuell and Kozlowski.

After the goals and objectives are established, the future land use plan component of the Master Plan will be developed. This component represents the desired pattern of land uses in the community for the next twenty years. It also provides guidelines on how the community would like to grow, and recommendations on the type, density and location of development.

This includes identifying where forest lands, open spaces and natural features should be retained; and where residential, commercial and industrial areas should be constructed.

The future land use plan will be based on the analysis of environmental opportunities and constraints, existing trends and conditions, and projected land use needs.

Once the Master Plan is completed, South Branch Township will hold a legally required public hearing, prior to adopting the plan.

The Planning Commission will work on the Master Plan at several of its regular monthly meetings over the next year. These meetings are held the first Thursday of every month, and residents are encouraged to attend and participate.

For additional information on the Master Plan or times and dates of planning workshops, please contact the South Branch Township clerk at (989) 275-8232.

Canadian company buys Northern Pure Ice

by Josh Greenberg
Staff Writer

Northern Pure Ice was purchased by Arctic Glacier Inc., a publicly traded company out of Winnipeg, Manitoba, on December 31. It was one of eleven Michigan companies acquired by Arctic Glacier.

"The operation will stay pretty much the same, though we will get a facelift. One of the real advantages to working for Arctic Glacier is that if we have a hard summer, we won't have to rely on our own sales," said Plant Manager Marc Haring.

Haring added that they may be able to offer higher quality jobs, with better benefits.

The Grayling Northern Pure Ice/Arctic Glacier is the second biggest ice plant in Michigan as measured by tonnage of ice produced in 24 hours. At full capacity, they can produce 385 tons of ice every day.

There are twelve full-time employees, though during the busy months of summer there can be as many as 55 workers.

The plant sits atop two 250 foot wells, which Haring said have great water that doesn't require treatment.

He said that bags of ice should be wearing the new Arctic Glacier labels by summer.

Friends For Miracles raise funds for local youth

Friends for Miracles, a group of over 30 (mostly local) women, made a 100 mile trip in two days on snowmobiles to raise funds for Grayling High School student, Chris Minnick, currently being treated for cancer, to help his family pay medical and travel expenses.

The group met on January 30 at Terry's Sport Center in Grayling and traveled to Dingman's Bar in Kalkaska, then to Starvation Lake and ended in Waters.

On January 31 the group split into smaller groups and headed home stopping in Frederic at The Swamp II. The women raised over $3,000 in pledges and donations.

Every year the Friends for Miracles group picks a youth in the Grayling area to help raise funds for. Last year the women raised funds to help Grayling student, Dustin Pizzi.

Kirtland hosts hot contest to raise money for relief effort

Carol Silverman's Winter White Chili was judged the best of 22 entries in Kirtland Community College's (KCC) first Chili Cook-off which raised about $150 recently for the American Red Cross Tsunami Relief Fund.

The contest was hosted Monday, Feb. 28, at the KCC Student Center. Instructors and staff cooked up their best recipes which were then judged by a panel of five KCC students. Tasters then converged on the great-smelling scene, donating 25 cents per sample, or $3 for the opportunity to taste each entry, with all proceeds going to the Red Cross.

Second place in the contest went to Jerry Boerema's Buzzard-Breath Chili, while Terry Fasbender's Tazmanian Tear-Jerker Chili placed third.

In addition to the cook-off, students could test their skill that day on the Lunch Tray Luge course, or their stamina by trying to retrieve a rubber ducky from an ice-cold wading pool in the Polar Duck Dip.

The winter fun was a prelude to Kirtland's spring break, which began Monday, March 7. Courses resume March 14 and early registration for summer and fall courses begins April 18. To find out more about Kirtland, call 989-275-5000.

Kirtland's Thiel recognized by service-learning community

ROSCOMMON — John Thiel, a Kirtland Community College history instructor, has been named a recipient of the Michigan Campus Compact Faculty/Staff Community Service-Learning Award for 2004. He received the award during a ceremony at Adrian College in February.

Service learning is a method of teaching in which students learn and develop by actually meeting needs in their communities through service projects related to their programs of study.

In his fourth year of teaching at Kirtland, Thiel, who is a 1994 graduate of Gaylord High School, is known by his students as a dynamic and entertaining teacher who tries hard to bring the human element into what he is teaching.

Nicholas Holton, Kirtland's Service Learning coordinator, nominated Thiel for the award and accompanied him to the reception. In his nomination, Holton cited Thiel's commitment to providing community service-learning opportunities to his students, exemplified by his creation of a searchable Service Learning Opportunity Database that can be found on the Kirtland

John Thiel

Web site.

The site, which was originally intended for use in Thiel's class "The Individual and Society," allows anyone to log on and search the database for opportunities to serve within their community or field of interest.

Thiel was awarded a grant to create the database from the Michigan Campus Compact, a coalition of colleges and universities that promotes civic involvement for students in order to expand their learning experience.

For more information on service learning at Kirtland, log on to the Kirtland Web site at www.kirtland.edu, then click on Service Learning.

Kirtland instructor to present impressions of China

The people and landscapes of China have made many lasting impressions on Sinan Toprak, a political science instructor at Kirtland Community College (KCC). He will try to relate these impressions to anyone interested during a presentation Wednesday, March 23, on the Kirtland campus.

Toprak recently spent five months on a teaching sabbatical in China and said he is happy to be able to share his experiences and pictures. The one-hour presentation, which is free and open to the public, is part of the college's Global Awareness Program, which Toprak coordinates. China will continue to be the focus of the program when, on April 6, Dr. Thomas Kostrzewa from Western Michigan University, will visit the Kirtland campus to speak about China as an emerging superpower.

Both presentations begin at noon and take place in Room 135 of the Administration Building. For more information, call Toprak at KCC at 989-275-5000, Ext. 265.

Travel and Adventure series visits the Alps

Travel to Europe's Alps on March 31 at the Grayling Promotional Associations Travel and Adventure Series narrated live by the filmmaker, Jim Tompkins.

The Grayling Promotional Association (GPA) Community Cultural Events Program's Travel and Adventure Series will present "Europe's Alps" at the Rialto Theatre on March 31, at 7:30 p.m.

It was quite an adventure," said filmmaker Jim Tompkins, talking about his experiences shooting his new travel film production, entitled "The Alps." Perhaps the most beloved mountain range on earth, the Alps are a favorite destination for travelers to Europe. "Few visitors see as many places in the Alps as we will," Tompkins said of the presentation.

Tompkins loaded up with thirty pounds of camera and other gear, hiking several miles every day for two months to experience the Alps first-hand. He traveled the countries of Monaco, France, Italy, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Germany, Austria and Slovenia.

When asked of his favorite place, he admitted, "that's a tough one. Each area has its own character. Some places I'd like to go back and explore again, but there are other places where the atmosphere would be hard to match on a return trip." He admits that his biggest surprise were the Alps of Slovenia. "I had no idea what to expect. It's one of the most beautiful locations in the film," Tompkins says.

Another surprise were choral groups who would break into song while on their own tour of the Alps. One spontaneous performance occurred in a palace in the Lake Country of Italy. "A guide coaxed them into trying out the acoustics. It was an unexpected highlight of the tour."

The film is not about one country, but a flavor of all the different cultures and landscapes of the Alps.

Highlights he includes in the first half include Monaco and Provence, the Lake Country of Italy, the Dolomites, Liechtenstein and the Jungfrau region of Switzerland. The second half focuses on the Matterhorn, Salzburg, and the Salzkammergut region of Austria, the Bavarian Alps, Lakes Bled and Bohinj in Slovenia, topped off with the highest peak in Europe, France's Mont Blanc.

"Live Cinema shows are a unique kind of performance entertainment," Tompkins says, and encourages anyone who has never seen one to experience it in person. Using the latest digital production and projection, the film will be narrated live by the filmmaker, accompanied by an original film score, location sound and "clear, bright, digital imagery."

Tompkins grew up among the gorges and waterfalls of the Finger Lakes region of upstate

New York, where he gained an early admiration of nature and landscapes.

While attending Ithaca College, he studied Film Production and Art History, acquiring a Bachelors degree in Cinematography. After graduation he moved to Southern California and spent several years working in the motion picture industry before becoming an independent filmmaker.

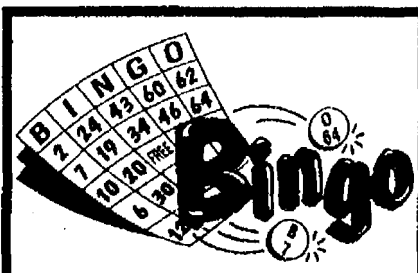

Although he travels about six months a year, Tompkins eventually goes home to Valencia, California. He has presented his travel films throughout the United States, including performances at the National Geographic Society in Washington, the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh and the Sundome in Phoenix. The Travel and Adventure Cinema Society awarded him its "Rising Star" Award.

The doors open for the adventure at 6:45 p.m. Tickets are $7.50 for adults, $6.50 for students and seniors citizens, and are available by calling 989-348-7146, at the door, or in advance at Flowers by Josie and the Grayling Chamber of Commerce.

The Travel and Adventure series is made possible by a partnership with Fick and Sons, Inc.

Court case appeal results in uncertainty for next year

Volleyball, girls basketball may switch seasons in 2005-06

■ Ruling against MHSAA may be heard by the Supreme Court

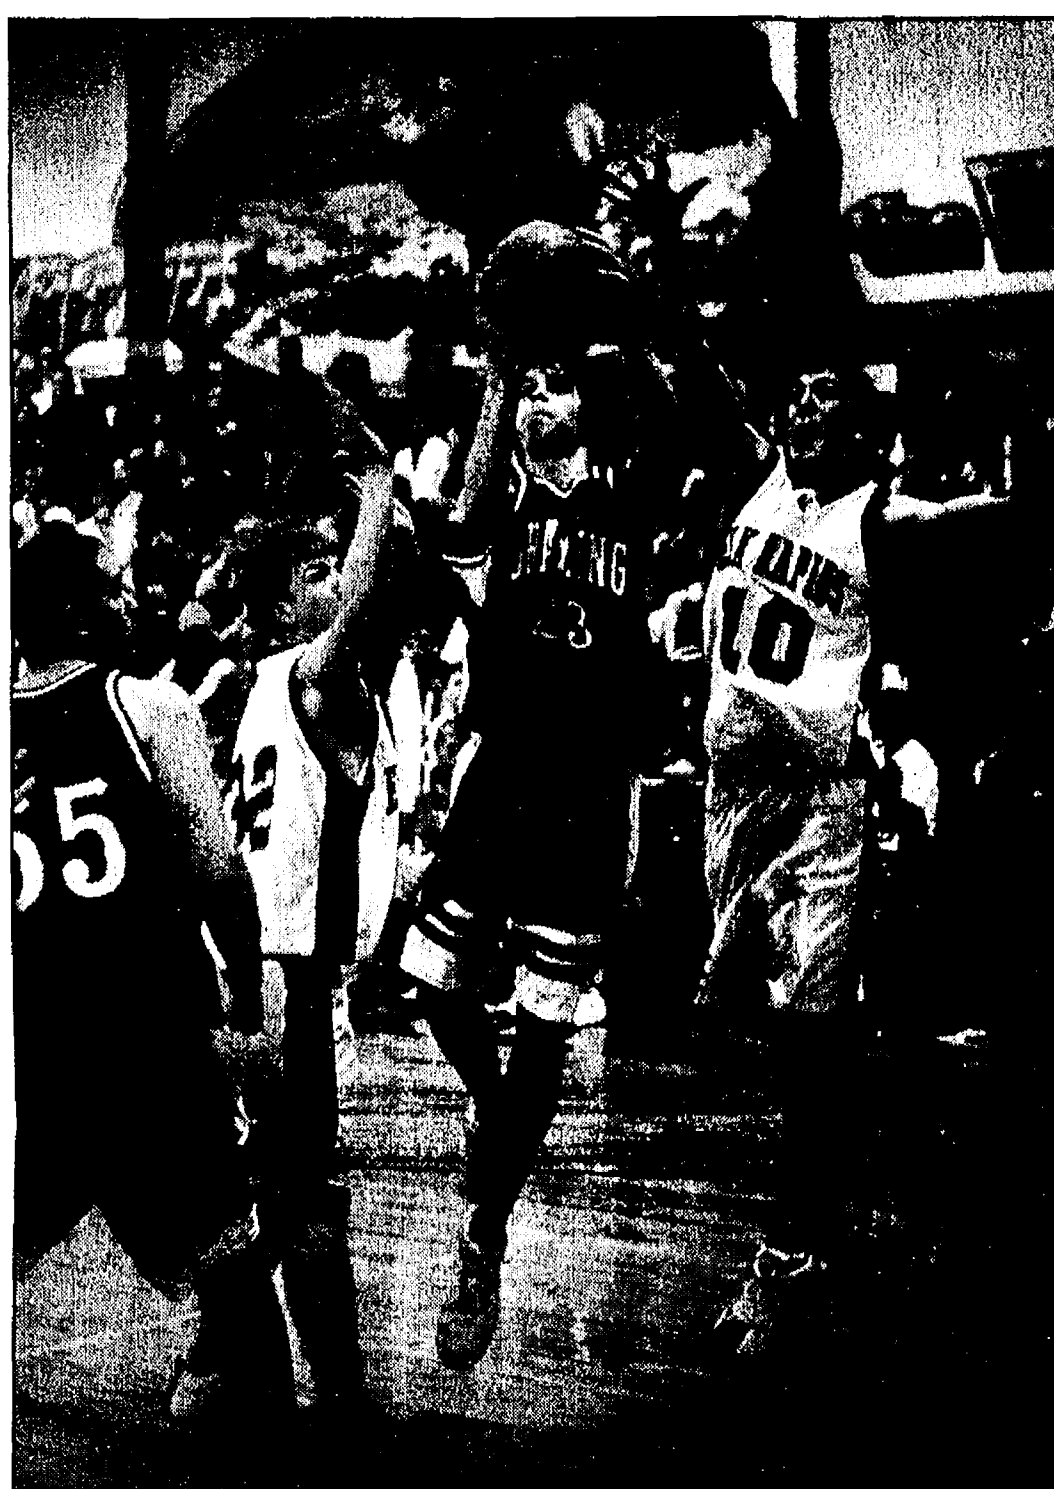

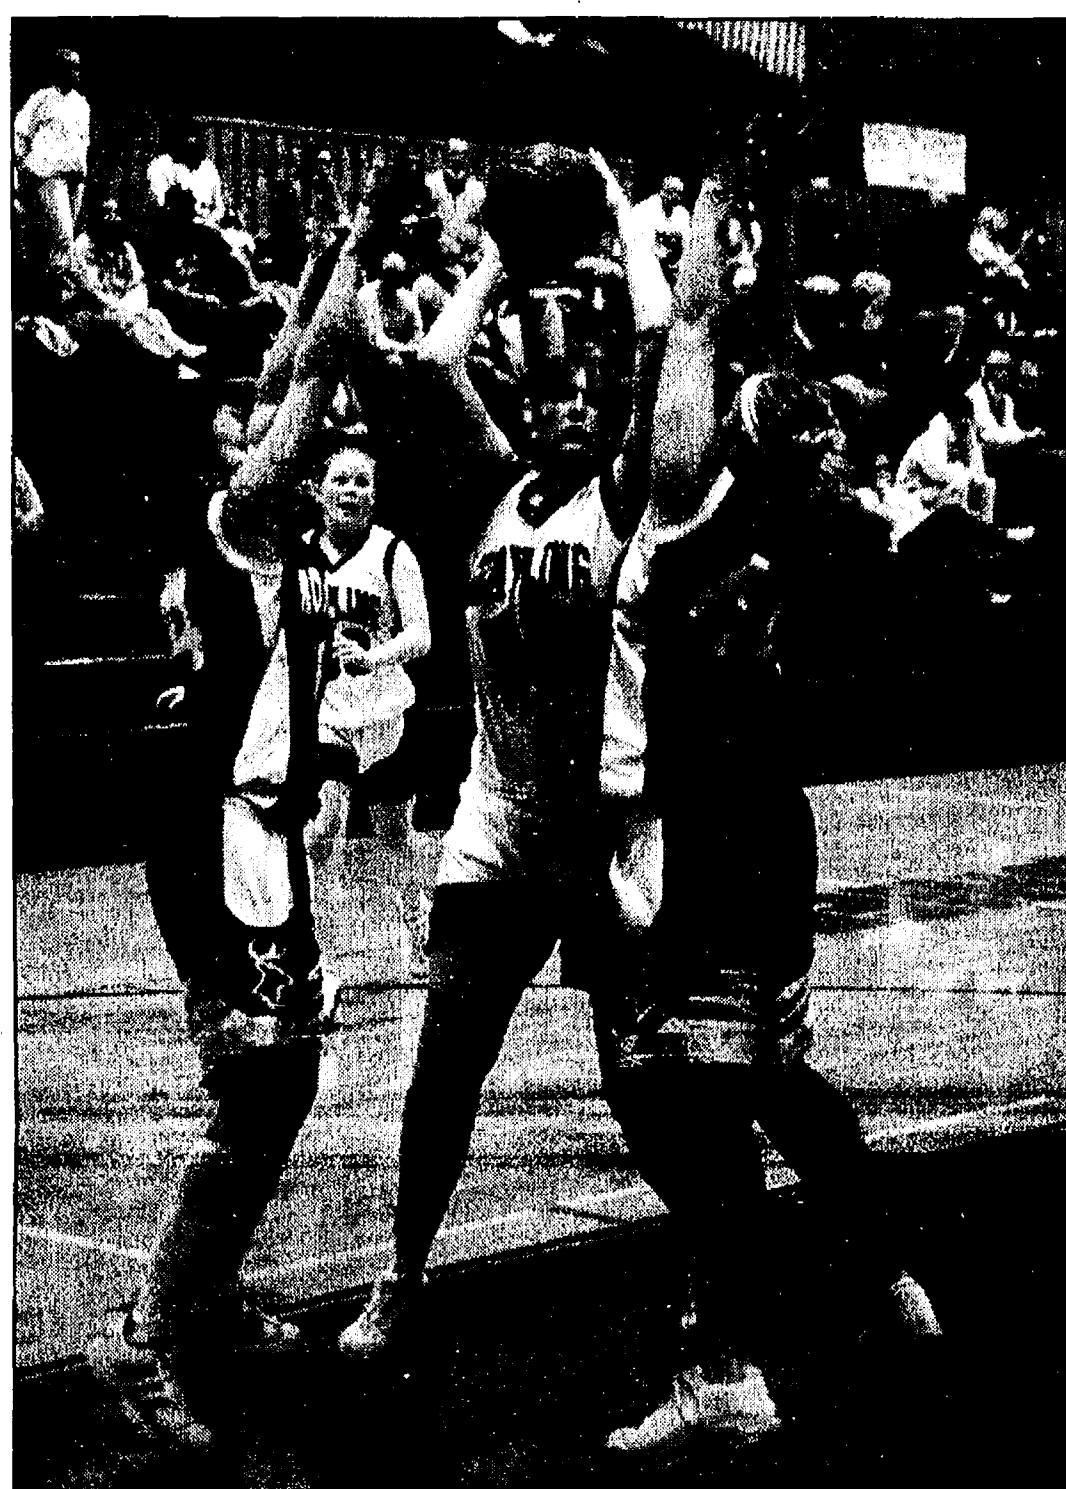

by Caleb Casey
Senior Staff Writer

A court ruling against the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) that would effectively force a switch in seasons for several sports – including girls basketball and girls volleyball – may soon be heard by the U.S. Supreme Court, forcing Michigan athletic directors to draft two sets of plans for next year's high school sports scheduling.

A lower court ruled against the MHSAA in the lawsuit, but the appeals process has led the case all the way to the Supreme Court. The suit seeks to align the girls basketball season with the boys season and have girls volleyball played in the fall. Colleges play basketball in the winter for both men and women, and college volleyball is played in the fall. In Michigan, high school girls basketball is played in the fall and volleyball is played in the winter.

The Supreme Court is expected to make a decision on whether or not to hear the case some time in April, leaving Michigan's high school athletic directors, referees, coaches, players, and fans in a state of uncertainty.

In the upcoming 2005-06 school year, girls basketball and boys basketball may both be played during the winter sports season, depending on a potential U.S. Supreme Court decision involving a gender equity lawsuit against the Michigan High School Athletic Association. The Lake Michigan Conference's plan, if the change is to be made next year, would have the girls and boys play on separate nights – Wednesday and Friday for the girls and Tuesday and Thursday for the boys. Halfway through the season, the boys would switch to Wednesday/Friday and the girls would play Tuesday/Thursday.

Grayling posted a 13-1 league record in regular season Lake Michigan Conference games this year. The Vikings finished the 2004-05 season with an overall record of 20 wins, 3 losses.

Boys ski team places 6th at state finals

■ Grayling's slalom run comes up two points short of 5th

On Monday, February 28, the top three teams from each region in B-C-D schools, along with the top individual qualifiers, competed in the state finals at Marquette Mountain. Grayling High School's boys ski team qualified for the state finals and placed 6th at the meet.

At Marquette, racers from 26 schools raced in eight courses to determine the top boys and girls teams along with the top 10 individuals in slalom and giant slalom.

All seven of the Lake Michigan Conference's schools that participate in skiing were represented at the state finals. LMC teams won both championships, with Harbor Springs winning the boys title and Traverse City St. Francis placing 1st in the girls competition. Boyne City's girls took 4th and Charlevoix/East Jordan placed 5th.

Practices begin for spring sports

Softball – The new varsity softball coach this year is Keri Brock. The program may not have a JV team this season.

"As of now we're not sure if we're going to have JV softball. It depends on the numbers at try-outs," Pummell said.

Try-outs began on Monday, March 14.

The varsity softball team's scheduled season opener is set for April 12 at TC Central.

The district tournaments for both varsity baseball and softball will be held at Grayling High School in 2005.

"One thing we're excited about is hosting both the baseball and softball districts this year. It will be nice to have both of those at home," Pummell said.

Track – The track program also has new coaches this season. Tim Sanchez, a varsity assistant coach for football this past fall, is the coach of the boys track team. The girls squad, as of last week, had an interim coach but not an official head coach.

"We're waiting for the track to get cleared off. (The track teams) will use the weight room and the hallways to start the year," Pummell said.

The first track meet is scheduled for Thursday, April 14, at Grayling High School.

Middle school track coaches for this year are Renea Martin and Brad Wagner. The middle school team is scheduled to host a meet on April 27 in its season opener.

Girls soccer – John Haven will return as coach of the varsity girls soccer team. The squad started practicing this week.

The team's 2005 season opener is scheduled for Tuesday, April 12, at Harbor Springs. The squad's first home game is set for April 21.

Boys tennis – The new coach for the GHS boys tennis team is Craig Cobb. Practices for the 2005 season began this week.

The tennis team's schedule begins with four home meets, starting with an April 18 contest vs. Charlevoix.

Girls golf – Rebecca Brown returns as coach of the girls golf squad. The first two scheduled golf meets for the Vikings will be held at Grayling Country Club. Grayling will golf against TC St. Francis on April 14 and Petoskey on April 19.

Court case appeal results in uncertainty for next year

uncertainty as to what the final outcome will be.

Doug Pummell, Athletic Director at Grayling High School, said he has received a lot of calls from people wanting to know the latest on the issue.

"Everyone at this point just wants to know," Pummell said. "There's so many things (this case) affects — gym time, officials, coaches. Students may have to make a choice on which sport to play."

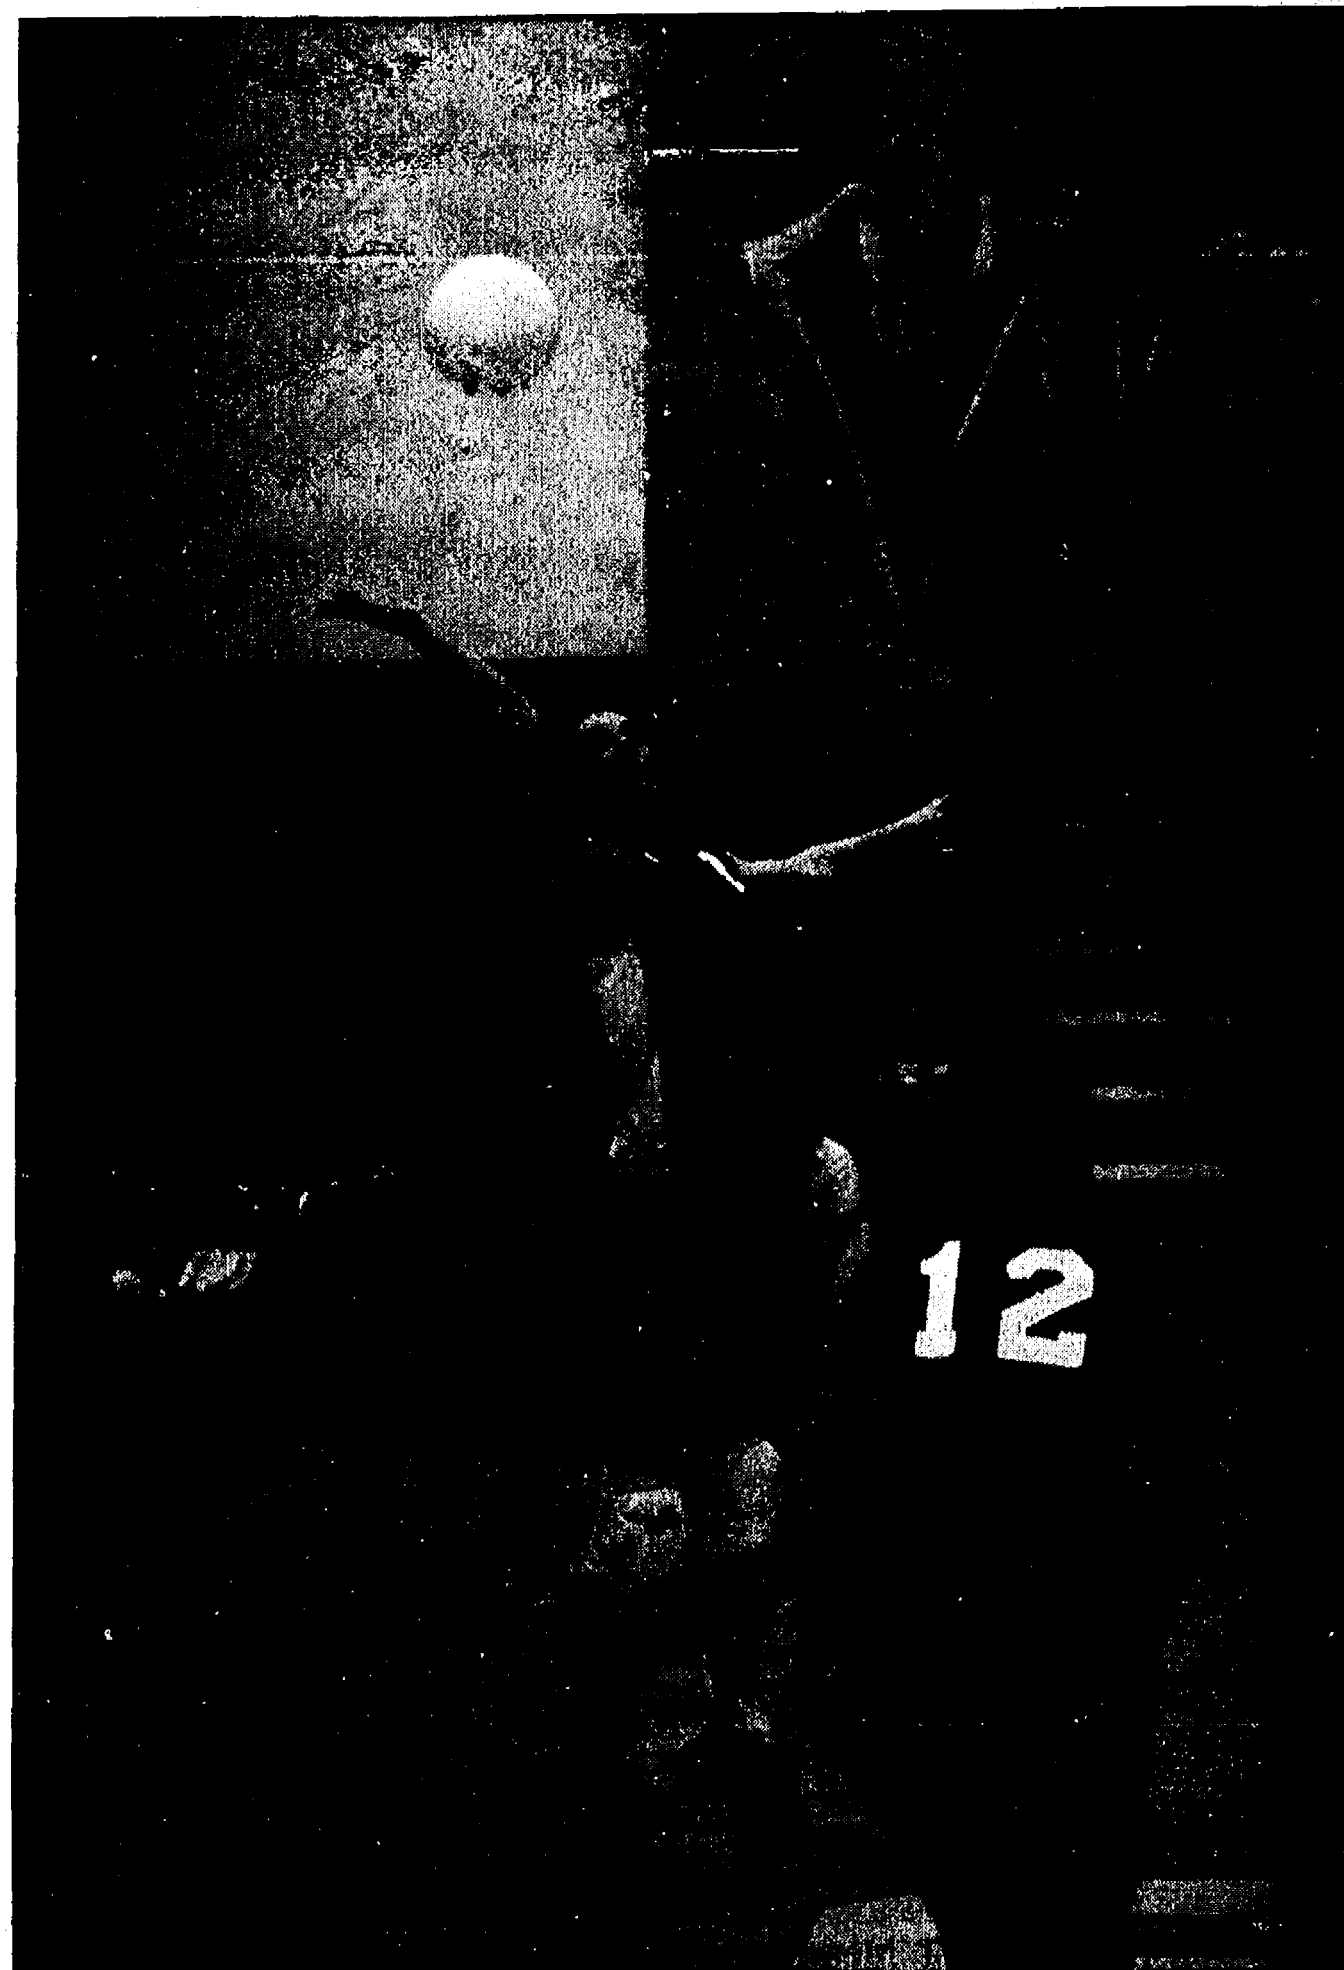

Pummell said that if the Supreme Court hears the case, there are three basic possibilities: the court could rule that the MHSAA must change its seasons now (effective 2005-06), the court could rule in favor of the MHSAA and everything would stay the same, or the court could rule against the MHSAA but allow for a delay in implementation of the season switches.

"If (the Supreme Court) decides to hear the case, we don't know how long it will take," Pummell said.

With the uncertainty, Pummell has set up two different schedules for next year's girls basketball and volleyball programs.

If the switch in seasons has to be made next year, the Lake Michigan Conference's plan calls for girls basketball playing Wednesday and Friday and the boys playing Tuesday and Thursday. Halfway through the season, the programs would switch — the boys would go to Wednesday/Friday and the girls would play on Tuesday and Thursday.

"That's how the Lake Michigan Conference will do it. Different conferences will do it different ways," Pummell said. "Probably after a year we'll know which way is the best for the conferences and the schools."

Depending on a possible U.S. Supreme Court decision, volleyball and girls basketball may swap seasons next year. Currently, Michigan's high school girls basketball season is in the fall and volleyball is played in the winter. The court's decision on a lawsuit appeal involving the MHSAA could result in a switch as early as the 2005-06 school year.

Boys ski team places 6th at state finals

Grayling's boys team finished 6th. Individuals from Boyne City and Elk Rapids finished in the top 10.

The Vikings skied to a 6th place finish in giant slalom (GS) in the morning and were set to make a second half charge in slalom in the afternoon. Trevor Clough led GHS with a 10th place finish in GS. Jim Jansen had two consistent runs and placed 28th. Jon Handy was 20th in the first run but had a visibility problem in the second run and placed 30th overall. Pat McNally was 34th in his first run and 30th in his second to place 31st overall. Adam Gilbert was 24th in his first run but fell in his second run and took 33rd. Jim Hilbrecht was 36th and 38th to place 38th overall out of 54 racers.

"The afternoon race was the time to push the race for the Vikings as none of the boys wanted to sit in 6th place, even though they were ranked 7th in the polls," Coach Mike Wieland said.

McNally and Clough started the first slalom runs placing 11th and 7th. Jansen was 26th, Gilbert was 30th, Handy was 34th, and Andrew Hart was 48th.

"The first run in slalom had the Vikings encouraged as they could see 4th place within their grasp," Coach Wieland said.

McNally placed 6th in the second run and finished 8th overall. Jansen placed 23rd in his second run and took 23rd overall. Gilbert placed 20th in his second run to improve to 24th overall. Clough fell in his second run and finished 32nd overall. Handy placed 35th in his second run and took 33rd overall. Hart was 47th in his second run and finished 47th overall.

Grayling came up two points short of 5th place, finishing 6th in the team competition.

"It has been a great season and a lot of fun coaching this group of young men. They have been ranked in the top 10 in the state both athletically and academically for the past two seasons. During the course of this season our team has defeated every team in the state finals in at least one race except Harbor Springs. This shows their ability and determination," Coach Wieland said.

The ski team will conduct its annual awards banquet on Tuesday, March 22, at Skyline.

Four Vikings earn all-state honors

Four Grayling High School boys ski team members earned all-state honors this year.

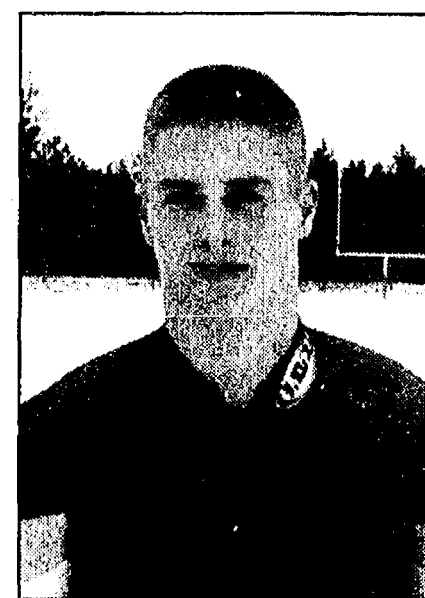

Skiers in the state finals compete for team results and individual honors. The Michigan High School Athletic Association passes out trophies and meet medals for these positions. After reviewing these results, the Michigan High School Ski Coaches Association passes out its all-state awards.

"The Viking boys team didn't have the team results it was hoping for but four individuals put good results into the record books and received all-state honors," Coach Mike Wieland said.

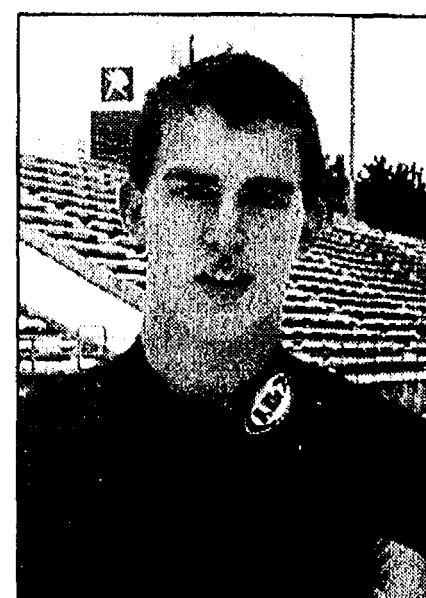

Pat McNally made the all-state 3rd team in slalom, placing 8th in the team competition and 14th overall.

Trevor Clough was named to the 3rd team in giant slalom, placing 10th in the team competition and 16th overall.

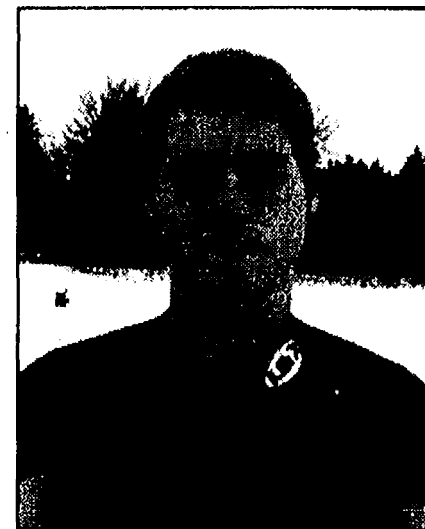

The honorable mention team was selected based on combined finishes in all four races with best runs being considered. Jim Jansen and Adam Gilbert both were awarded honorable mention team recognition for their solid efforts in both races.

Local basketball player picks Glen Oaks Community College

Mandy Czapek, a senior at Grayling High School, will continue her basketball career at Glen Oaks Community College next year.

Czapek broke Grayling High School's career record for rebounds this past fall with a total of 797. She also holds the school's record for most blocks in a career with 370. Czapek holds the school's single season records for most rebounds (333) and most blocks (133). In 2003, she broke the state record for most blocks in a single game with 22.

In 2004, Czapek was a 1st team all-league selection in the Lake Michigan Conference, a 1st team all-region selection by the Traverse City Record-Eagle, a Detroit Free Press all-state honorable mention, and a Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan all-state honorable mention.

"I chose Glen Oaks because Coach (Brian) Beebe is great, the facilities are awesome, the whole college is in one building, and they are the home of the Vikings!" Czapek said.

Czapek said she plans to attend Glen Oaks for two years and then transfer to Saginaw Valley to finish her basketball career and teaching degree.

"I'm excited to have Mandy become a part of our program next year," Coach Beebe said. "She will provide an inside presence that we really lacked this past season."

Glen Oaks Community College is located in Centerville, Michigan near the Michigan-Indiana border.

KIRTLAND BASKETBALL

Women's Team

The Kirtland Lady Firebirds ended their 2004-2005 basketball season with a quarterfinal loss to Lakeland Community College (Ohio), 88-67, in the NJCAA District H tournament hosted by Delta College March 4.

But the loss can't dampen the excitement of a season well played. In her first year as head coach of the Lady Firebirds, Teresa Stuck led her team to a winning season - the first in the team's five-year history - ending the regular season with a 9-7 conference record (12-17 overall).

That winning record was a dubious proposition at the start of the season. The girls took their time getting to know one another on the court and buying into Stuck's philosophy of play. Stuck, a former Houghton Lake High School basketball standout turned coach, took her team on the road for a rigorous round of pre-conference games that left them with a 3-10 record going into their conference schedule.

And things got worse before they got better.

But somewhere in the middle of it all, the Lady Firebirds found their common ground and began playing like a team. They ended the season winning eight of their last 10 games and Stuck had high hopes they'd continue their winning ways into the post-season.

Lakeland proved to be too much of a team for the Firebirds to overcome, however. "We put up a battle, but our offense fell flat in the second half and Lakeland had a lot of weapons; they are a very good team," Stuck said.

Amanda Cooper, a sophomore from Harrison, led the Lady Firebirds in scoring against Lakeland (15 points), much as she has most of the season. Kenzie Steward, also a sophomore, from Alma, had a good game with 14 points and 7 rebounds. The Firebirds' Danish standout, freshman Nynne Larsen, added 13 points, 7 assists and 3 steals, while Felon Harris, a freshman from Toronto, worked the court for 11 boards and 7 points.

Cooper, Steward and the team's third sophomore, Jamie Dent of Grayling, will be missed on next year's roster.

"Everyone really improved this year and I am looking forward to our eight freshmen providing a solid base as sophomores next year," Stuck said, looking ahead. "We will really miss our sophomores and wish them the best of luck next year."

Mott Community College, which was undefeated in conference play this year (16-0; 24-5 overall), beat Wayne County CC and Lakeland on its way to a face-off against the conference's number-two team, Schoolcraft (13-3), for the District H championship. Mott won the contest, 73-71, and proceeds to the NJCAA Division II national tournament in Phoenix.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

CINNAMON HEARTS

Dough	4 1/2 cups all-purpose flour	1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/2 cup sugar	3/4 cup sugar	cup butter or margarine, melted
2 envelopes RapidRise Yeast	1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon	cup butter or margarine, melted
1 teaspoon salt	1 cup finely chopped dates or raisins
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 large eggs

Cinnamon Filling

1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted	1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon	1 cup finely chopped dates or raisins

Powdered Sugar Glaze

1 cup powdered sugar, sifted	1/2 cup powdered sugar, sifted to 2 tablespoons milk	1/2 cup powdered sugar, sifted
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract	1/2 cup powdered sugar, sifted

In a large bowl, combine 1 cup flour, sugar, undissolved yeast, and salt. Heat water, milk, and butter until very warm (120° to 130°F). Gradually add to flour mixture. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add eggs and 1 cup flour; beat 2 minutes at high speed. Stir in enough remaining flour to make a soft dough. Knead on lightly floured surface until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Cover; let rest 10 minutes.

Divide dough into 2 equal pieces; roll each to 12- x 10-inch rectangle. Brush with butter, sprinkle evenly with sugar, cinnamon, and dates. Roll up tightly from long ends as for jelly roll; pinch seams to seal. Mark each roll into 16 equal pieces. Starting with first mark, slice every other mark 3/4 of the way through dough. Slice remaining marks all the way through dough to make 8 rolls from each piece of dough. Spread apart the two halves of each roll like a fan. Gently flatten with hand; shape to resemble hearts. Place on greased baking sheets. Cover, let rise in warm, draft-free place until doubled in size, about 45 minutes.

Bake at 375°F for 15 to 20 minutes or until done. Remove from sheets; cool on wire rack. Drizzle with Powdered Sugar Glaze.

Powdered Sugar Glaze: In a small bowl, combine powdered sugar, milk and vanilla extract. Stir until smooth.
